

Third Experiment: Write-Your-Name

The hand of a human being is composed of several muscles, bones and of a very developed nervous system. Using its five fingers and of its multiple articulations, it is able to achieve a high number very complex tasks.

<http://www.medword.com/Anatomy/LineDrawings/LoResHand.html>

Experiment:

- You must write your name on a sheet of paper with a pen/pencil, using the Robix manipulator.
- You can begin the robotic movements with the pen/pencil already in the gripper.
- Start with one letter only, then add all the others by increasing the precision of the Robix manipulator.
- Do not forget to save your program.